CAMBRIDGE INTERNATIONAL TEACHING
& LEARNING QUALIFICATIONS

ABOUT THIS QUALIFICATION

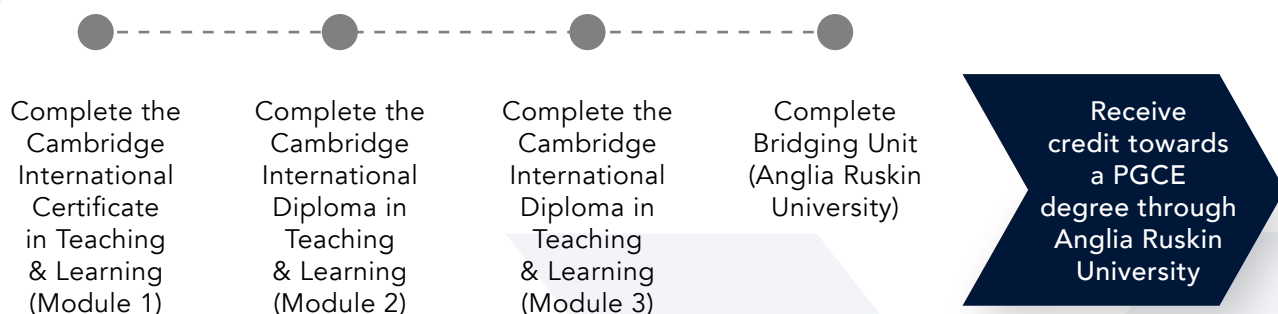

The Cambridge International Certificate and Diploma in Teaching & Learning offer teachers internationally recognised qualifications designed to develop their professional practice and enhance the quality of teaching.

Delivered entirely online via the GenEx platform, these courses allow practising teachers to deepen their knowledge, skills, and understanding of critical teaching methodologies.

Candidates submit portfolios of evidence showcasing their practical teaching experiences and professional growth. Throughout the programme, candidates benefit from dedicated mentorship, engaging content, and collaborative opportunities with other teachers globally.

It also provides credits towards higher education opportunities, including the Postgraduate Certificate in Education (PGCE) at Anglia Ruskin University.

THE POWER OF PROGRESSION

The qualification structure consists of three sequential modules:

- Module 1 (Certificate) focuses on foundational professional development, helping teachers improve effectiveness, collaborate globally with peers, and engage with interactive content.
- Module 2 (First Part of Diploma) builds on foundational knowledge to further professional thinking, develop inclusive teaching strategies, and enhance skills through reflective practice, collaboration, and inquiry-based learning.
- Module 3 (Final Part of Diploma) focuses on advanced classroom practice, deepening understanding, and enabling teachers to implement sophisticated teaching strategies to support diverse learning environments.
